College of Liberal Arts

Introduction

- The project scope included the creation of an online platform for scholarly articles in Victorian Era studies, facilitating the sharing of research in a centralized, professional setting.
- BRANCH website database of peer-reviewed articles about 19th century history.
- COVE website built to add corresponding geospatial locations mentioned within these scholarly articles.
- BRANCH and COVE link together in a dynamic format, providing easier visualization of significant locations and how they connect and overlap.
- Project provides a deeper understanding of the physical world during the Victorian era and adds to the digitally available materials in this discipline.
